

Organizers:

Nuria Sánchez Madrid (University Complutense of Madrid)
and Blanca Rodríguez (University Complutense of Madrid)

Grupo de Investigación UCM:

Normatividad, emociones, discurso y sociedad (GINEDIS)

Engaging Vulnerability and Exclusion Rethinking the Subject in the XXIth Century

First Spanish-Serbian Workshop on Philosophy and Social Theory

Madrid, 7th-8th November 2017

Tuesday, 7th November

Faculty Board Room / Sala de Juntas
(Faculty of Philosophy, Building A. University Complutense of Madrid)

9:30 – Welcome of the Dean of the Faculty of Philosophy (Univ. Complutense of Madrid) and Adriana Zaharijević (Institute for Philosophy and Social Theory, University of Belgrade)

10:00-12:30 – 1 Panel “Challenging the inclusion / exclusion frame”

Chair: Blanca Rodríguez (University Complutense of Madrid)

10:00-10:30 – Petar Bojanić (Institute for Philosophy and Social Theory, University of Belgrade), Inclusion / Exclusion. On the Conditions of Common Engagement

10:30-11:00 – Francisco Blanco Brotons (University Complutense of Madrid/IFS-CSIC), “Exclusion” versus “Adverse Incorporation”. A Reflection on the Logic of Political Communities

11:00-11:30 – Irena Fiket (Institute for Philosophy and Social Theory, University of Belgrade), Inclusion (exclusion) and Democracy. Challenges of Democratic Deliberation

11:30-12:00 – Roberto Navarrete Alonso (University Complutense of Madrid), Human Being, Vulnerability and Politics: Helmuth Plessner’s Political Anthropology

12:00-12:45 – 1 Panel Discussion

13:00-15:00 – Lunch break

15:00-17:00 – 2 Panel “Patterns of life in neoliberal times”

Chair: Txetxu Ausín (IFS/CSIC)

15:00-15:30 – Emma Ingala (University Complutense of Madrid), Facing Extreme Violence and Precarity: New Figures of the Human in Judith Butler and Étienne Balibar

15:30-16:00 – Nuria Sánchez Madrid (University Complutense of Madrid), Forms of Life and The Transformation of Public Space: The Objective Features of Happiness

16:00-16:30 – Sara Ferreiro Lago (University Complutense of Madrid), Privatization of the Sustainability of Life in Hannah Arendt’s The Human Condition

16:30-17:00 – 2 Panel Discussion

Wednesday, 8th November

Faculty Board Room / Sala de Juntas
(Faculty of Philosophy, Building A. University Complutense of Madrid)

10:30-12:30 – 3 Panel “Still turning around the ticklish subject”

Chair: Irena Fiket (Institute for Philosophy and Social Theory, University of Belgrade)

10:30-11:00 – Adriana Zaharijević (Institute for Philosophy and Social Theory, University of Belgrade),

Against the Individual: Who Qualifies as “One”?

11:00-11:30 – Clara Navarro Ruiz (University Complutense of Madrid), Subject and Research in Global

Capitalism: Some Notes on the Fundaments of Feminist and Marxist Theories in the Frame of Intersectionality

11:30-12:00 – Clara Ramas San Miguel (University Complutense of Madrid), The Vulnerable Subject. Butler Reading Hegel

12:00-12:30 – 3 Panel Discussion

12:30-14:30 – Lunch break

15:00-17:00 – 4 Panel “Rethinking subjectivity in XXIth Century in discussion with sociology, anthropology and literature”

Chair: Nuria Sánchez Madrid (University Complutense of Madrid)

15:00-15:30 – Jelena Čeriman (Institute for Philosophy and Social Theory, Belgrade), Research Subjects or Not? Methodological Issues in Research on Exclusion and Vulnerability in Sociology

15:30-16:00 – Laura Herrero Olivera (University Complutense of Madrid), Difference and Recognition.

A Critical Lecture on Axel Honneth, Jacques Rancière and Nancy Fraser

16:00-16:30 – Djurdja Trajković (Institute for Philosophy and Social Theory, University of Belgrade), Limits on/of Subject: Non-historicism and Powerless Freedom of Literature Gifts

of Argentine Drifter, Jorge Luis Borges

16:30-17:00 – 4 Panel Discussion

17:00-17:30 – Conclusions and brainstorming about publishing the contributions